Hi Amy,

That's not accurate. Council needs to first approve the instruction to complete the feasibility study for the proposal. In other words, before the project itself can be voted on, the motion allowing the study of the project must first be approved. For a motion to be approved, it must first go to its respective committee (in this case, Homelessness & Poverty Committee), and then back to Council. What's being considered on Tuesday -- by the Homelessness & Poverty Committee, not the City Council -- is only the question of whether or not to study the issue, not the issue itself, and certainly not a full City Council vote on it.

Please feel free to refer the parent(s) to me or our team so we can clear up this or any other misunderstanding. We look forward to continued dialogue.

Thanks,

Hi Dan,

Hope you're doing well. Reaching out because one of our parents has said that the Council is set to vote on the Hollywood proposal on Tuesday, prior to the Thursday meeting with Larchmont. Is that accurate? Is this the final vote or are there other opportunities for input prior to the final approval of the project? Thanks for your help.

Amy
